Polish Noblemen Faces Charge at Berlin of Murder of Wife and Nephew

COUNTES WAS FAMOUS BEAUTY IN EUROPE

She Had Long Conducted Clandestine Correspondence With Her Nephew

Berlin, Feb. 18.—The "unwritten law" and "brain storms" will be the defense of Count Miedzyński, a Polish nobleman and member of the Reichstag, who will be placed on trial next Friday for the murder of his wife and the latter's nephew at the family castle on the night of December 29th.

Miedzyński admits the crime, but insists it killed the count and her nephew in a fit of rage, without covering accidentally the truth of accusations against them which he had himself made on the trial of his wife, attempting to prove that he was aroused from sleep by a noise which he thought was the sound of a bullet, and that his realization of the true state of affairs followed.

The count was shot dead blindly, not knowing what he was doing.

The countess was a famous beauty of Polish extraction. Once when she was visiting Berlin with her husband, Mme. Cavalier, the singer, met the count on the street and said: "Madame, I thought I was entitled to the castle until I saw you. You are the real queen."

The murder of the countess was a tall blonde of typically Polish temperament. The preliminary investigation of the case has been completed and nothing has been learned of the man who conducted a clandestine correspondence with her nephew, and also has given the impression that the trial is attracting national attention.

PRESENT NUMBERING IS TO BE CONTINUED

Recommendation of Commissioner
Booth to City Council Is Accepted

The following report regarding house numbering by Commissioner Booth, was adopted by the council: "I beg leave to call your attention to the present status of affairs regarding house numbering in the city. The number of houses has increased so rapidly that the scheme of numbering, as initiated by this department, is inadequate. As the demand for new numbers is constant, being asked for numbers for houses, and as the city clerk will not be obliged to add to the existing numbers, there will be a surplus, and as the directory of the city is now being prepared, something definite must be done."

Consequently, as the injunction against the numerical system started last fall has been dissolved, legally we are bound to issue numbers under this scheme. The departmental numbering council resolved that the scheme of numbering be inaugurated. As the demand for new numbers is constant, being asked for numbers for houses, and as the city clerk will not be obliged to add to the existing numbers, there will be a surplus, and as the directory of the city is now being prepared, something definite must be done."

"I wish to point out to you that the present scheme of numbering in the city, that practically every house in town is now numbered, whereas the same is not true in the case of which did prevail or any other system which would necessitate the removal of many numbers and cause confusion."

C.P.R. Officials Confer on 1914 Western Extension

Montreal, Feb. 18.—George J. Bury, vice-president of the C.P.R. Western lines, arrived this morning to confer with the president regarding the company's work west of the Great Lakes.

It was ascertained that there was no foundation in the report that the company contemplated making a substantial reduction in its 1914 Western appropriation, but that, as a matter of fact, Mr. Bury had been called East by the president with the object of conferring as to further extensions.

What the extensions are to be is still unknown, but it is understood that they will amount to a considerable sum of money and that many parts of the prairie provinces will be benefited.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, Feb. 18.—Three by-elections are being decided this week. South Buckinghamshire polls today, and the other two, on Monday, Greenock, in the West, and the Poplar division of Tower Hamlets on Friday.

A by-election was held in a typical London east-end constituency, where the by-election of July 29, 1911, resulted in a victory for P. G. Masted, Liberal, over the Conservative, and that at the previous general elections, December, 1910, the Liberal candidate, Mr. Green, had a majority of 682.

The by-election was held blindly, not knowing what he was doing.

The countess was a famous beauty of Polish extraction. Once when she was visiting Berlin with her husband, Mme. Cavalier, the singer, met the count on the street and said: "Madame, I thought I was entitled to the castle until I saw you. You are the real queen."

VIGOROUS OPPOSITION TO A LIQUOR LICENSE IN NORWOOD

Residents of District Present Strong Protest Before the Board of License Commissioners and Application of Union Trading Company, Limited, Is Refused—Marlborough Hotel Application in Abeyance

At the meeting of the board of license commissioners held in the rooms of the Juvenile court this morning, vigorous opposition was made by a large representation of the residents of Norwood in the vicinity of Sixth street and Avenue A, against the application of the Union Trading Company, Limited, who proposed to open a wine and beer saloon.

It was decided to defer the application until a later date in the district affected.

C. W. Lethbridge, president of the Union Trading Company, objected to the license on the ground that the employees of his company, only a few of whom are married, would be placed near the temptation offered by the presence of a bar. Decision was deferred to a later date in the district affected.

W. C. MacArthur, who headed the delegation opposing the granting of the license, called the attention of the board to the fact that the Union Trading Company, Limited, had a wholesale license to the Marlborough Hotel, which was refused.

It was decided that the Union Trading Company, Limited, be given an opportunity to go to the hotel and discuss its proposed plans with the board.

Little or no opposition was offered to the adjourned hearings on the application of the Union Trading Company, Limited, for a wholesale license, and that of Messrs. John W. McLean and W. J. L. Lethbridge, for a new license in respect of the Marlborough Hotel, located on the corner of Sixth street between Athabasca and Peace avenues, near the C.P.R. depot. The application was granted.

The board also decided to locate a residential district, and where a license was not granted, the board would be asked to do the same.

Mr. Stewart stated that, while he was present at the hearing, he was advised that the district affected was rendered less dangerous.

W. J. Hanly, of the firm of McKay, Hanly, & Co., argued in favor of the application, pointing out that a wholesale centre, where no accommodation is necessary, the hotel would be a valuable addition to the district.

It was decided to defer the proposed work until a later date.

Suffragette With Dog Whip

Baron Weardale Mistaken for Member of British Cabinet by Woman, Who Refuses When Arraigned in Court to Give Her Name

London, Feb. 18.—A militant Suffragette, armed with a whip, attacked Baron Weardale while he was waiting today with two hundred other guests for a train to Althorp Park, Northampton.

The party was going to attend the wedding of Hon. Sydney Peel, son of the Earl of Lonsdale, and Lady Peel.

The Suffragette apparently mistook the elderly peer for one of the Cabinet members.

Lord Weardale was walking with his wife along the platform when the woman, who had been whip in a hand, struck him. The woman then fled.

The anxiety of his friends was relieved when it was found that Lord Weardale had not suffered any serious injury. The woman was arrested. Her name was given.

When the suffragette who had attacked Lord Weardale was arraigned in court, she refused to give her name. John Weardale, who had been a member of the Cabinet, was present.

The hair was lifted out upon the ice and the girl was taken to the Marlborough hotel, and the two were taken to the hospital.

The girl, who was a member of the Women's Social and Political union, the militant suffragette organization, was apparently the worse for their dip in the icy waters.

IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

The Hudson's Bay Route Delayed and Discarded by Disastrous Incompetence.

Ottawa, February 6th.

The early development and successful operation of the Hudson's Bay route is the hope of the Prairie West. As shown by the facts placed before the House yesterday by Mr. A. K. McLean, of Halifax, the operations of the Hudson's Bay Company, in the summer of 1913, in the work of creating a suitable ocean port at the mouth of the Nelson river, have lost a year of time and seriously discredit the project. The department having decided to create a port at the mouth of the Nelson, it is to be presumed, as the result of the investigation of the engineers of both the Railways and Marine Departments, and the inspection of the Minister of Railways in the summer of 1913, chartered seven vessels to take men, supplies and equipment to Port Nelson. They bought a dredge at a cost (landed at Port Nelson) of over $300,000. Of the seven vessels chartered—
